VISITING NURSES' ASSOCIATION HONORS MRS. ROGER W. HOMER

The thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association held at the home of Mrs. William A. Muller, Tuesday morning, was particularly noteworthy in that it terminated the presidency of Mrs. Roger W. Homer after twenty-five years of service.

When Mrs. Homer assumed office in 1915 the association employed one nurse. Under her administration it has grown so that four nurses, making about ten thousand calls a year, and a secretary are necessary. After the annual reports at Tuesday's meeting, Mrs. Robert W. Murphy read the following letter from Governor Saltonstall:

My dear Mrs. Homer:

It has been brought to my attention that you are planning to retire from active duty after spending twenty-five years as head of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association.

I congratulate you upon the completion of this long period of splendid and self-sacrificing service to your fellow-men, and through you I congratulate all who are engaged in this humanitarian endeavor with you.

It must be very gratifying to have seen over this period of years many remarkable improvements which could not exist except for efforts of unselfish persons like you.

Allow me on the occasion of your retirement to express to you my sincere respect and admiration for the splendid work which you have done.

Sincerely yours,

Leicester Saltonstall
Alfred W. Lombard paid tribute to Mrs. Homer's wonderful cooperation with the work of the Board of Health. Mrs. Frederick Dillenbaugh, past president of the Massachusetts Organization of Public Health Nursing, and Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, president of the Medford Visiting Nursing Association, spoke in warm appreciation of Mrs. Homer's work. The last speaker was the Rev. Matthew Flaherty, senior minister of the town.

He spoke with especial feeling of Mrs. Homer's work in organizing and directing the nursing work of the emergency hospital that was carried on in the old Boer's Trade building during the influenza epidemic of 1918.

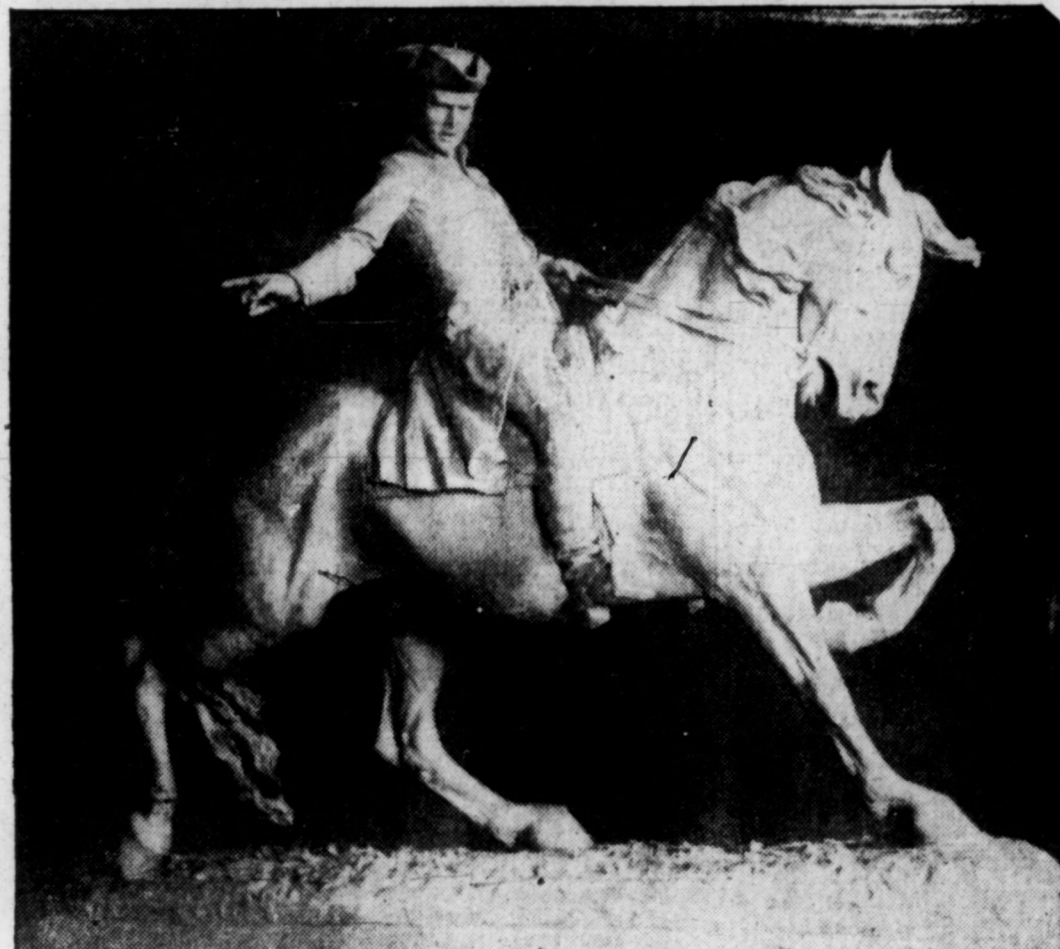

Mrs. Robert W. Murphy, the new president of the Association, then

80% Of Taxes Now Collected

The collection of 1939 real estate taxes is in a healthy condition according to figures available at the office of Tax Collector J. Wilbert Anderson. At the close of the year, 80 percent of the 1939 real estate taxes had been collected according to Mr. Anderson. Furthermore, fewer tax titles were taken by the town during the year just ended, showing that conditions are generally better and property owners are more able to pay their taxes. Demands on unpaid 1939 taxes are to be mailed out soon to property owners. By paying their taxes now, property owners will avoid a demand fee of 35 cents.

It was snowing at the time of the accident. Mr. Raymond's car was proceeding across the bridge when it skidded back and forth across the wet, wooden plank surface, bounced over the 18-inch abutment log, plunged across the pedestrian walk and crashed through the wire cable fence along the bridge. The car, with the Arlington man at the wheel, was submerged in thirty feet of water and a fire department truck crane were used to hoist the auto out of the water to permit removal of the body.

Mr. Raymond lived here ten years, ever since his marriage, and was employed by the H. C. Cady corporation, of Boston.

Nomination Papers Already Taken Out by Several Prominent Citizens — Lively Contest for Assessor Is Seen — Marsh Seeks Re-Election to Public Works Board

The opening gun in the town election for 1940 was fired this week when several candidates for various town offices took out nomination papers at the office of Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder in anticipation of the annual election on March 4.

Among those who have taken out papers and thereby made public their intentions of seeking public office, is Loren W. Marsh, of 38 Norfolk road, candidate for re-election to the board of public work.

Miss Callahan is secretary of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce and has conducted a successful real estate business in Arlington for many years. She has been very active in local civic and political circles and been a town meeting member for several years.

Mr. Hauser has served on the board of selectmen, has been a member of the finance committee for five years and a town meeting member for eight years. He has been a resident of Arlington for twenty-six years.

Four candidates are already out for the school committee. They are Charles N. Viano, of 11 Harlow street; Theresse N. Turner, of 130 Jason street; Harold E. Magnusson, of 99 Jason street and Joseph J. Bevins of 127 Scituate street.

public works board and Mrs. Turner and Mr. Bevin, present members of the school committee, are the only office holders who have announced their intentions of seeking re-election this far.

Marsh's Statement

In announcing his candidacy for re-election, Loren W. Marsh, chairman of the board of public works, stated: "I shall be glad to have you inform your readers that I have decided to seek nomination for re-election to the Board of Public Works. "During the past three years several important projects have been instituted which must necessarily be slow in development. I am intensely interested in these matters, as well as all the routine of the Public Works department and desire to be re-elected so that I may assist in some way, in their satisfactory completion."

Mr. Bevin's Statement

Joseph J. Bevin, member of the school committee issued the following statement: "Through the columns of your paper I wish to announce my candidacy for re-election to the School Committee. I had stated that this would be my last year on the committee, but many friends have urged me to stand for election for one more term. They feel that my experience, qualifications and interests make me a desirable school committeeman.

"I have acceded to their requests and if re-elected will continue to serve all the people of Arlington and strive to keep our school system in its present high place among the school systems of the state."

Lively Campaign Seen

Although the campaign has gotten off to a later start than usual, considerable activity can now be expected since candidates must tackle the job of securing no less than 535 signatures (or 3 percent of the 17,523 votes cast here for Governor in 1938) on their nomination papers to be certified. Nomination papers must be filed with the board of registrars before 5 p. m., February 1. The papers then go to the Town Clerk on or before February 8. Withdrawals of candidates will be allowed up to February 9 at 5 p. m.

There will be more than passing interest in the contests for town meeting members this year since precincts whose boundaries were revised during the past year will be required to seek re-election, if they wish to continue in office, even though their term of office has not expired.

In other precincts, town meeting members seeking re-election must notify the town clerk in writing by February 3 and their names will automatically go on the ballot. Other candidates must file nomination papers bearing ten or more signatures.

Next in line were Orrin Tucker (Bonnie Baker), Duke Ellington, Bob Crosby, Benny Goodman, Tommy Dorsey, Kay Kyser, Glen Gray and Jan Savitt.

The 803 Record Club will NOT be discontinued as originally announced on January 1st. Some changes have been made and this column is a feature on which we would appreciate your suggestions for increasing its interest to you. Listed below are the reviews of this week's records. MOONLIGHT BAY (Decca) Here is one of several good DECCA records by Glenn Miller. It was made just at the start of his rise to the top. CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 14.

The Golden Text: "I am the Lord that bringeth you up out of the land of Egypt, to be your God; ye shall therefore be holy, for I am holy" (Leviticus 11:45).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness; according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. . . Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. . . Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit" (Psalms 51:1,10, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Hobe height where God is revealed; and the cornerstone of all spiritual building is parity. The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration" (p. 241).

Kiwanians in Arlington will join with all other members in the United States and Canada in observing this occasion. On Monday evening, January 22, a birthday party will be held in Detroit in honor of the founding of Kiwanis. Kiwanians from both countries will be in attendance.

Bennett O. Knudson, of Alberta, Lea, Minn., president of Kiwanis International, will send a special message to the local clubs for its anniversary meeting," said Mr. Baker.

The club committee on Kiwanis Education will be in charge of the program for this event.

New Year...New Leaf... Why Not New Car?

THE slate's clean, the past is past, you're making a new beginning on a new year you hope will be happier and finer and richer — how about doing the job up right?

You spot the fun possibilities in this brilliant and buoyant Buick just by watching it flash by, but have you been in to try it?

Do you know what it's like — first hand, we mean — to have a hundred-plus Dynaflex horsepower waiting your treadle-foot's nudge? Have you sampled the thrill in such an engine micro-poise-balanced to smoothness a wrist watch can't hope to equal?

Today's winter-roughened roads give you swell chance to try but Buick's gentle ride — raw weather emphasizes the stout snugness of Unisteel Bodies by Fisher and the convenience of the Flash-Way Direction Signal.

Now's when you most need firm new rubber — sure, soft, tiptoe brakes — Buick's automatic choke — stout, taut frames and rugged bodies, and why wait for spring to buy beauty that gives your spirits a lift?

Then too, driving speeds are naturally lower now and driving distances shorter, making this the best time of all to get a car properly started in life.

So figure it out! It's a new year. You've turned a new leaf. Ask your Buick dealer what a new Buick will cost you now — and let every month of 1940 contribute to a happy new year!

The model illustrated is the Buick Super model 51 four-door touring sedan $1109 delivered at Flint, Mich. White sidewall tires additional.

FRIENDSHIP

Vast sums of money have little to do with happiness in this world. Many people with millions are not only unhappy, but actively miserable because of their wealth and the complications it brings into their lives. On the contrary, some of the people who have very little of this world's goods have a happiness that the wealthiest man would trade his gold for.

Geography does not make happiness. We feel that if we could move to this, that or the other place, we would be perfectly happy. When chance gives us the opportunity, we find that climate and location have little to do with happiness.

Happiness always has and always must come through human relationships. It is the people around us, our pleasant associations with them, the smiles our friends have for us, which make our happiness.

Thus, the main object of every man in his pursuit of happiness should be the cultivation of friends. The lack of friends makes life lonely and miserable; the presence of friends makes every day a holiday.

Here in Arlington men from all walks of life, from all religious and political parties, have a golden opportunity not only to make friends, but to keep friendships in repair by a constant renewal of contacts.

The surest way to gain happiness is by giving added happiness to others. Working shoulder to shoulder with other men who believe that this is true, leads to greater friendships than almost any other form of human contact.

Crittendon League

Mrs. W. D. Elwell will open her home next Wednesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock for the January meeting of the Arlington Circle, Florence Crittendon League. The business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Llewellyn M. Evans, president. The holiday cards should be passed in at this meeting. The speaker will be the Rev. George A. Butters of Calvary Methodist Church, whose subject will be "Designs of Living." Music will be furnished by Mrs. Edna Merritt, Harrington, contralto, accompanied by Mrs. Edwin L. Allen. Following the meeting tea will be served.

New Marquee at Capitol

Have you noticed the new marquee in the front of the Capitol Theatre? Manager Parker, who seems to be spending both his working and sleeping hours planning to beautify and modernize his Capitol Theatre, is responsible for the new marquee which is most attractive, modern and very easy to read. It features new silhouette lettering and neon tubing.

C. OF C. SPEAKER URGES CARE BEFORE INVESTING

Speaking on the business outlook for 1940, Harold Charles Bond of Studley, Shupert & Company of Boston, a prominent economist, urged members of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce at their meeting Tuesday evening to exercise diligence in investing money, the same as they do in making it. This, the speaker stressed, was most important now because of unsettled conditions brought about by the European war and the national elements which might effect the financial picture during the coming year. Mr. Bond was introduced by Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder in the absence of Walter T. Chamberlain, who had engaged the speaker but could not be present. The meeting was held at the Arlington Gas Light company with Waltham B. Henderson presiding.

Harry Baseman of the Regent Delicatessen was accepted into the membership. During the business meeting reports were made by Treasurer Norma Jenkinson and Secretary Anna B. Callahan. Malcolm Griffin, chairman of the commercial committee also reported and invited all members to attend the meeting of this committee, at McManus' store next Wednesday evening when further plans will be discussed regarding ways and means of welcoming newcomers to Arlington. Mr. Griffin pointed out that the idea was not new, and that it had proved most valuable in other communities. The plan would be to acquaint newcomers with Arlington's business houses.

The Parking Problem
Mr. Griffin said the committee was still giving serious consideration to the parking problem and that an article aimed at relieving the parking congestion in the business sections of the town, may be included in the warrant for the coming annual town meeting. The committee still has in mind the possibility of getting permission to use a section, at least, of the Russell school playground, between Medford and Mystic streets, for the parking of autos.

During the course of the brief business meeting, Arthur Birch suggested that the Chamber might sponsor a public concert to raise funds for Finland. Roger Homer then explained that this might conflict with plans of the Veterans of Foreign Wars who are sponsoring such a benefit concert Feb. 22.

Speaks on Investments
The speaker of the evening, Mr. Bond in opening his remarks on the financial trend for 1940, said that predictions generally are optimistic because those who make such predictions are telling the people just what they want to hear. He pointed out that major elements often affect the financial picture such as the unexpected Sit-Down Strikes of 1937 and the Hitler war scare in 1939. There is no possible answer to the latest complications in Europe today, Mr. Bond stated. The investor, consequently, can protect himself by investing cautiously. He said that true investment, after all is the conservation of capital.

"It makes just as much difference what industry you choose as the name of the concern, when you buy common stock," the speaker said. By and large, the trend of earnings in the industries in which you buy stock is most important also, he added.

Mr. Bond suggested that anyone investing money should first sit down and determine his real investment position, his own individual circumstances and the risk which he can take. Next, he should formulate a plan to carry out his personal needs and balance his risks. Then, he should select the individual securities on a basis of his fitness to carry out the plan he has chosen. Lastly, the wise investor investigates each security thoroughly before buying, and after buying he should watch it closely.

Every security is usually worth what you pay for it when you buy it, the speaker said, but more losses are due to the failure to sell at the right time than in buying. Mr. Bond summed up his remarks by saying that a business-like approach is necessary in buying stocks these days more than ever before.

The NEWS OBSERVES

Arlington high school has been added to Salem High's football schedule for the next two years, it was revealed yesterday. Arlington will play at Salem next fall and a return game will be played here the following year. The competition should be keen since Coach Fred Ostergren of the Red and Gray was at one time assistant coach in the Witch City. In adding Arlington to his schedule, Salem dropped Peabody High which it had met annually since 1907.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Arlington Heights Improvement association, in the Brackett School hall, Wednesday evening, Norman MacDonald, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers' association brought out two significant facts.

Mr. MacDonald pointed out that the decrease in last year's State budget and the decided reduction in the State tax was due to the hearty cooperation given by the State legislature. He also stated that any increase in local taxes was due to local expenditures which could not in any way be linked with the State legislature.

Five students of the Arlington high school, members of the "Chronicle" staff, and their faculty adviser, Mr. Robinson will be delegates at the Eastern Massachusetts Scholastic Press Conference sponsored by Northeastern University, 360 Huntington Avenue this Saturday. The conference will open at 9:30 a. m.

Undaunted by the storm, several hundred people registered at the High School, Monday night to avail themselves of the many interesting courses offered in the Adult Education Classes, sponsored by the Woman's Club. The classes are held Monday and Thursday evenings starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Added to the many attractive calendars sent the NEWS is a new one received this week from S. B. St. John, general agent of the Santa Fe System. The calendar carries a most colorful painting entitled, "The End of the Santa Fe Trail."

Local leaders of Methodism will participate in the opening meeting of a nation-wide program of Methodist Advance Tuesday, January 16, in Boston. Directed by the Council of Bishops, the Methodist advance will start with the Boston meeting and will continue until the General Conference at Atlantic City next April. Although the advance program will be carried on in local churches throughout the period, it will be featured by major rallies in 82 principal cities.

Ask About Our Budget Plan

Tobin, had voted to commission Mr. Dallin to execute the statue in bronze for $27,500. The statue when completed will be erected in Paul Revere Hall, in Boston's North End, close to the historic home of Paul Revere.

Mr. Dallin told the NEWS that the Paul Revere Statue will be dedicated next Patriots' Day on April 19, if the casting of the statue can be completed in time.

During the long struggle to have Boston accept the statue for which Mr. Dallin was originally commissioned, efforts were also made in Arlington within recent years to raise funds with which to buy the statue for Arlington. Arthur Birch made the suggestion to a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and gave much of his time and effort to sponsoring plans for Arlington to buy the statue. However, the local plans were later abandoned. Now, the action of the White Fund trustees comes as a vindication for Mr. Dallin.

In an open competition in which ten other leading sculptors of the time took part, Mr. Dallin's model was judged the best and he was awarded a $300 prize, which he received and moreover he was commissioned to execute the statue for the city of Boston. Plans were made to finance it through $25,000 to be raised by public subscription and $5,000 to be contributed by the city. However, a rival sculptor blasted the project when he called Dallin, then only 22 years old, "Only a cowboy from Utah!" and said his model depicted an "impossible man on an impossible horse." The campaign to raise the $25,000 was then abandoned and in a few years the project was dropped.

Although disappointed over Boston's failure to go through with the project, Mr. Dallin was convinced that his Revere model was the best work of his career and at intervals he sought to induce various mayors of Boston to appropriate the funds necessary to complete the statue in heroic size bronze. Art critics and societies lent their support at various times to have the city of Boston purchase the statue.

Finally, Mr. Dallin presented his case to the trustees of the George Robert White fund. He argued eloquently for the acceptance of his statue. The clay model from which the statue is to be made was then approved, not only by the trustees of the White Fund, but by the Boston art commission, the Copley Society and the Bunker Hill association. Joseph P. O'Connell, manager of the fund, recommended its acceptance and the trustees, with Mayor Tobin voted favorably for the project on Friday.

The statue will be cast in bronze at the T. F. McGann foundry in Boston and the cost of the bronze alone, which will be borne by Mr. Dallin, will exceed $10,000.

Mr. Dallin's best known work is his equestrian statue of "The Appeal to the Great Spirit," which stands in front of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts but he has called his Revere statue, the greatest work of his career.

His Greatest Achievement

By ALBERT B. MILLER

When Paul Revere rode through Menotomy early on the morning of April 19, 1775 spreading the alarm that the British were on the march, at the foot of the rocks, (Arlington Heights) he passed within a short distance of what was to be many years later, the home of Cyrus E. Dallin, Arlington's celebrated sculptor, who as a poor boy from Utah was to create his Symbolic Masterpiece of that midnight rider, Paul Revere.

The vision that inspired young Dallin when he created his first model of the heroic Revolutionary Patriot was to be not only his greatest achievement in his long career, but was also to be the greatest disappointment in the life of Cyrus E. Dallin that even to this day he cannot forget.

As a young unknown sculptor that had come to Boston from his home in Springville, Utah, at the age of nineteen he struggled to obtain recognition and to perfect the natural born genius that in later years was to become the envy of other sculptors.

At the age of twenty-three young Dallin entered a contest in Boston and submitted his model of the now famous Statue of Paul Revere. Joy filled his cup to overflowing when the judges awarded the young sculptor from the west, the honor of accepting his model as the best submitted. A contract was signed for a monument to be erected in Boston from Dallin's model.

No sooner was this done than the oldest enemy of mankind, jealousy, was at work and was the cause of preventing the statue from being erected by the City of Boston at that time.

Dallin was vilified in letters to the newspapers pointing out that he was an unknown sculptor, without training, a cowboy from the west. What could he know, of Art. It was too great an honor to give to an unknown sculptor.

The critics who lashed him with ridicule and derision, their names are not even remembered today. A friend who had entered the contest came to see young Dallin in his little room studio in Pemberton Square, Boston, climbing the three flights of rickety stairs, he warmly congratulated Dallin on the high honors he had received.

That friend was the sculptor, Daniel Chester French, whose beautiful statue personifying the Minute-Man stands at the Old North Bridge in Concord.

In late years several attempts have been made in Arlington to have the Paul Revere Monument erected here, but the cost has made this prohibitive.

The many friends of Mr. Dallin congratulate him that at last the monument will be erected in the old North End of Boston where Paul Revere was born and where he spent the best days of his life. His remains are buried in the Old Granary Burying Ground on Tremont Street, Boston. Boston has always had the first claim to the Paul Revere Statue. The first model was made in Boston, even the horse he rode on that historic midnight ride came from Charlestown. Arlington feels justly proud of her distinguished townsman Cyrus E. Dallin.

Arlington Loses To Chelsea, 28-16

By BILL DALE
A smooth passing Chelsea High quintet overshadowed an equally brilliant Arlington five Friday evening at the George H. Lowe Auditorium.

It was the initial appearance in Arlington of Bolly Nechem, former B. U. flash, as a coach and his team showed that it was as good if not better than many of the great Chelsea teams of the past.

During the first period neither team could crack the able defense of the other with the result that the score at the end of eight minutes stood, Chelsea 2, Arlington 0. Chelsea used its famed merry-go-round play without results until near the end of the half when "Hawk" Murray, star forward for the visitors broke through to score three baskets and go into a 13-4 lead.

Arlington provided all the thrills in the third period when Captain Glennon and Tom Cotter sank baskets making the score 15-10 but the Chelsea defense tightened, cutting short the rally. Arlington didn't threaten again and Chelsea added to its lead with looping shots from outside the foul circle.

Arlington Loses 28-20
After leading at the end of the first half, 8-7, a tired Arlington High outfit succumbed to a good Brookline outfit in a contest that kept the spectators on their feet continuously.

The Arlington High quintet hopes to snap out of its losing streak against a strong Medford club this evening.

—Miss Rita Forest of Lewis avenue has returned from Washington, D. C., where she visited her brother, Herbert Forest during the past ten days.

—Rev. George Clarke of Malden gave an interesting talk on the ideals of democracy at Wednesday's meeting of the Rotary club in the Middlesex Sportsman's clubhouse.

Woman's Club Hears Interesting Talk by New York Scientist

The Arlington Woman's club held its first meeting for 1940 on Thursday, January 5, in the Robbins Memorial town hall. Mrs. Fred U. Wyman, president of the club, presided, after a brief business meeting, the program was turned over to Mrs. Norcross Stratton, chairman of the education committee.

The speaker was Dr. Gerald Wendt, famous scientist and author, whose topic was "Science Review 1939-40". Dr. Wendt had many interesting exhibits which he explained from a scientific standpoint. The fabrics displayed were synthetic textiles. All the dyes were made from coal, and the rayons were made from wood. Synthetic leather, a product of wood from which can be made belts, bags, evening slippers and cushions was shown. The time will come when panels of synthetic products will take the place of wood in homes and public buildings. Of great interest to the audience were the new stockings made from nylon fibre. This material will stretch, but will not break like silk or rayon and of course lengthens the wear of the hosiery. It can be washed, but it will not absorb water.

Wood, coal, petroleum and natural gas, all enter into the making of synthetic products. A synthetic wool made from skimmed milk was displayed.

Dr. Wendt spoke of the destruction by gases used in the war, and explained the use of mustard gas and the tear gas in the war and during riots. A gas mask from Czechoslovakia was shown. He stressed the fact that more damage in war is due to panic than the gas from bombs.

Science is still in its infancy, and Dr. Wendt predicts there will be more changes in the next twenty years than during the last fifty.

Melrose Halts Local Streak

By DICK ROWE
Scoring once in each period, Melrose High halted the Gray-Ghosts of Arlington in a fast, hard fought game at the Garden, Saturday afternoon.

Without the services of injured Bob Battis and Arty Blanchard, A. H. S. was far from full strength, but put up a fine game in spite of the absence of its two stars. Bob Sanders scored for A. H. S. in the opening minutes when he intercepted a Melrose pass and slapped the puck home to put Arlington in the lead. Melrose tied the game up when McNamara scored on a rebound after Johnny Spinner had made a fine save on Thayer's shot.

In the second period Charlie Holt scored for Melrose to put the Red-men out front. In exactly 49s of the third period Rob. Thayer scored on a long shot from the blue line that sliced past goalie Spinner.

Other results of last Saturday's games were:
Newton 5 Camb. Latin 3
Belmont 4 Rindge 3
Stonham 4 Medford 2

The summary:
MELROSE—Dearbon, g; Thayer, rd; Colt, lf; Priestly, c; Holt, rw; Noyes, lw.
ARLINGTON—Spinner, g; Wilson, rd; Dwyer, lf; Sanders, c; Sullivan, rw; Burns, lw.
Melrose Spares—McNamara, Cahoon, Byrne.
Arlington Spares—Oflia, Rico, Moore, Rhode, Connolly.
Score: Melrose 3, Arlington 1.

Screen Shots

By PAUL DWINELL

We sat down the other morning with the idea of dashing off a ten-best list for '39. We looked up our records and copied out 21 pictures that had to be on that list! Can you figure it out? Try as we did, our conscience would not let us weed out any. So we hit upon this brilliant plan. Picking "Gone With the Wind" in a class by itself (and that's where it belongs), we divided the remaining pictures into two lists; one, our personal favorites; the other, ten films of exceptional merit.

Here are the favorites: "The Beachcomber," "Dark Victory," "Four Feathers," "Generals Without Buttons," "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "Hunchback of Notre Dame," "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," "On Borrowed Time," "Stagecoach," and "The Wizard of Oz."

Here is the second list: "The Castles," "Confessions of a Nazi Spy," "Grand Illusion," "Jazz," "Mikado," "Pygmalion," "Drums Along the Mohawk," "Pearls of the Crown," "Young Mr. Lincoln," and "Wuthering Heights."

Selecting the best performances was no easier, but these 10 were outstanding:

Charles Laughton in "Beachcomber" and "Hunchback." Robert Donat in "Goodbye, Mr. Chips." Bert Lahr in "Wizard of Oz." James Stewart in "Mr. Smith." Henry Fonda in "Young Mr. Lincoln." Paul Muni in "Jazz." Bette Davis in "Dark Victory" and "Elizabeth." Vivien Leigh in "Gone With the Wind." Wendy Hiller in "Pygmalion." Elsa Lanchester in "Beachcomber."

Vocational Guidance Is Topic of Meeting Of Jr. High West PTA

The Junior High West P. T. A. held a most interesting and instructive meeting on Monday evening in the School Hall. The entire meeting was given to discussion and explanation of various phases of guidance.

Miss Ethel Ober, faculty member, opened the meeting and introduced the speakers. Miss Ellen Fitzpatrick spoke of the reasons for guidance. She said it was to help make a happier life for pupils and to secure a personal understanding of them and that it offers valuable advice in the selection of courses throughout school life.

Miss Fitzpatrick explained the different steps in guidance in the three years of junior high school. Seventh grade guidance deals with adjustments, the theme being to know your school, learn its rules and various courses. Social life, proper dress, courtesy and personal hygiene are also some of the things taken up. In the eighth grade, better study habits are dealt with and opportunity is given to investigate work liked best, to enable pupils to find out if they are suited for work they have chosen. Ninth grade pupils are given tryouts for elective subjects and are helped to make a wise decision for curriculum in high school. Conferences with pupils are conducted to which parents are invited. Aid and information from parents is sought in order to better understand the pupil and help him to a happier life. Citizenship is also stressed.

Meetings are held according to parliamentary law and every pupil in the ninth grade is required to occupy the position of president and secretary at least once during one of these meetings during the year.

Miss Marion Brine was next introduced and she talked on the records used in guidance. In order for a period to drop an elective subject it is necessary for the pupil to bring a note from his or her parents as well as a note from the teacher of the subject to be changed. Miss Brine with the help of one of the pupils put on an original skit demonstrating the procedure taken when a pupil wishes to drop a certain subject. Permanent records are kept of all pupils. These are required by the State Board of Education.

Leslie Barrett spoke on "Help Sessions" conducted by the faculty of the Junior High West. All pupils receiving either a "D" or "E" in any subject are obliged to stay in school until 3:30 p. m. and are helped during the last period in any subject.

Miss Eleanor Collins discussed "Tests Available for Guidance." Tests are given to secure a rough estimate of ability of pupil, finding out and allowing for any handicaps. Any information is welcome and co-operation of parents is sought.

James Smith outlined procedure taken when pupils are transferred from one group to another. Out of 760 pupils in the Junior High West who were studied and placed in groups, only 49 transfers were needed and 42 of these showed marked improvement when transferred to another group. The remaining seven would be given more tests and helped to find the best group for them. The Junior High West is the only school where such a schedule in guidance exists. It is limitless in its scope for benefit of pupils.

A. Henry Ottosen, principal was the closing speaker, and his talk was on "How Parents May Profit From This Service." Mr. Ottosen stressed the fact that at times some pupils desire to be something later in life that they are least suited for and that is how proper guidance may help. Skilled labor he said, was what was needed rather than presidents of firms.

A splendid exhibit of posters demonstrating various fields of endeavor and ways in which guidance is helping pupils was displayed in the rear of the hall. Pamphlets on guidance were available for all parents desiring them.

Looking Inside

(Ed's Note: The comments in this column are not to be considered as the editorial opinions of the NEWS.)

Jan. 11, 1940. The fourth step in the process of preparing for next year's Town appropriations is now going on. First the forms on which the Budgets are to be prepared; second, the making up of the actual budgets or estimates by the Board of Finance and the Finance Committee; and third, the delivery of these to the Town Accountant and the Finance Committee, and now, fourth, the Finance Committee distributes them around and certain groups of members are assigned as sub-committees to consider budgets of certain Departments.

These sub-committees meet with their assigned departments, talk over the budget requests, get all the information they can from that Department and from other sources such as the Town Accountant. Perhaps they may visit certain buildings or streets, or view pieces of machinery or equipment. Somehow they must have an intelligent idea of the last Town Meeting. Having this, they meet alone as a sub-committee and decide what they will recommend to the full Finance Committee. They may agree with the budget request or disagree in major or minor items. In any case they must be prepared to present their findings to the full committee and defend their position with their reasons.

P. S. I notice in last week's NEWS that the Selection have revised the boundaries between Precincts 4, 6, 8, 10 and 14 according to a vote of the last Town Meeting. This will of course mean that all the present Town Meeting Members will be out of office and ALL must run again this year. The reason for the change was to include the new Arlington land taken from Belmont in the line change between the two Towns.
